DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 6, 7, 12, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sullivan et al (6,773,364). Sullivan discloses a golf ball core comprising concave portions corresponding to circular dimples on the cover. Note: layer 14 is considered part of the core. The cover has a thickness from 0.5 to 1.27 mm (col. 11). One of ordinary skill in the art would vary the thickness of the cover for the desired durability.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 8-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12-7-04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues Sullivan does not disclose concave dimples on the core corresponding to the dimples on the cover. Figure 1a of Sullivan clearly discloses each concave portion of the dimple corresponding to one dimple on the cover. The concave portions are not positioned directly under the dimples; however, applicant has not claimed any particular alignment. Applicant further argues Sullivan fails to disclose a convex portion of the inner surface of the cover. Again figure 1a in combination with figure 2a discloses this feature.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
